BACON DOES BRAVE ACT

Assistant Secretary of State Is Truly a Hero.

SAVES YOUTH FROM DEATH

Canoe Capsizes In Charles River and One of the Two Occupants For the Second Time Had Gone Down, but Official Swims to His Relief.

Boston, Oct. 12.—Assistant Secretary of State Robert L. Bacon figured in a heroic rescue on the Charles river. He jumped from the Harvard launch Veritas and swam to the rescue of two boys who had capsized in a canoe. He saved the life of one. The second boy was rescued by J. S. Reed, a student of Harvard, who followed Bacon into the water.

Bacon was returning from up river in a launch. The launch had reached the Cottage Farm bridge when the party saw a canoe capsize some distance away, overturned by the wash of a passing tug. One of the occupants, J. Nutting, a Harvard student, held on to the boat. His companion, however, was swept away and had twice disappeared when Bacon's attention was called to the accident. Bacon dived into the water and struck out for the drowning boys. Almost at the same instant Reed plunged overboard and Bacon yelled for him to take the boy in the canoe while he took the other one. After swimming for nearly fifty-five yards Bacon reached the other boy, who had become unconscious, and was sinking for the last time. Grasping him firmly Bacon turned back towards the launch, which was moving toward him, and the men on the launch drew both on board.

Three Drown.

Nashville, Oct. 12.—Their skiff capsizing while they were crossing the Cumberland river on a hunting trip, Thomas J. Warmack and his two sons, aged twelve and thirteen years, were drowned. Another occupant of the boat, a boy of fourteen, swam ashore.

MISS MALONEY MARRIED

Young Englishman, However, Is Not Her Husband.

HIS NAME IS A. H. OSBORN

Latter, Who Was a Princeton Student at the Time of the Wedding, Claims Affair Was Kept a Secret at Request of the Bride.

New York, Oct. 12.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance more than a week ago of Helen Maloney, daughter of Martin Maloney, the Philadelphia millionaire, has been given a highly sensational turn. At the time of Miss Maloney's disappearance Samuel Clarkson, a young Englishman, who had paid her marked attention, also dropped out of sight, and it was reported, and generally believed, that the couple had eloped and been married. Then came the news from Montreal that the missing pair had been married by a Catholic priest in that city, and then had returned to New York and sailed for Europe. Following directly upon the heels of the Montreal announcement comes the publication here of an unqualified statement from Arthur Herbert Osborn, a young broker of this city, that Miss Maloney is his wife. According to Osborn's statement, he and Miss Maloney were married on Dec. 8, 1905, and the marriage never has been annulled. Osborn declares that records in the notary's office at Montreux show that Robert Osborn had married Helen Eugene on that date will prove his statement. He said that the assumed names were used because at the time Miss Maloney decided to keep the marriage secret. The fact that the marriage had taken place did not become known, however, according to Osborn, and he declares that among those who learned of it was young Clarkson. He says that not only did Clarkson know of the marriage, but that only a short time ago he sought to have it annulled, having come so far as to consult a New York lawyer on the subject.

Osborn was a student at Princeton when the marriage with Miss Maloney is alleged to have taken place. He said that after the ceremony the young woman returned to her home, while he remained with his parents. Osborn is the son of the late William E. Osborn, for many years an officer in the American Sugar company. He is twenty-three years of age, has only child, and a fortune will come to him at the death of his mother.

WEDDED AT MONTREAL.

Lawyer of That City Asserts the Ceremony Was Performed There.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—Alexander L. Boni, a Montreal lawyer, confirms the statements made that Helen Eugene Maloney and Samuel Clarkson were married in this city on the evening of Oct. 3. He says they spent the day in his office, and were exceedingly anxious to be married. He promised not to say anything about the details of the wedding, and will keep his promise.

They were supposed to leave for New York en route to Europe, but the impression is that they have not sailed.

TRIO LYNCHED.

Two Negroes Hanged to Telegraph Pole, Third Shot to Death.

Tunica, Miss., Oct. 12.—Three negro men were lynched here for a series of burglaries. Two were hanged to a telegraph pole and the other was shot to death.

The negroes were Will Jackson, Jim Shonts and George Robinson. They had been placed in the Tunica jail, where they admitted a series of burglaries covering about ten years.

The negroes were spirited away from the jail, and the sheriff and his deputies claim that they do not know what hour the prisoners were taken. The sheriff testified at a coroner's inquest that the negroes' captors must have sneaked in while he and his assistants were out, and that they used the jail keys, for he found the cells locked and apparently undisturbed when the regular rounds were made later.

It was the mob's intention to hang all three, but after Jackson and Shonts had been hanged Robinson broke out of a barn, where he was being held, and was shot as he fled.

Guilt on All Counts.

Los Angeles, Oct. 12.—After brief deliberation the jury in the case of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway company, charged with rebelling, rendered a verdict of guilty on all counts enumerated in the indictments. The maximum fine is $1,000,000 and the minimum is $50,000.

Sensational Shooting.

Nashville, Oct. 12.—A dispatch to the Banner from Huntsville, Ala., says a sensational shooting occurred at New Market, Ala., the victim being John Fanning, a prominent citizen, who was fatally wounded by Dr. A. G. Allen, who used a shotgun, firing two charges into Fanning's body.

Indefinitely Postponed.

Madrid, Oct. 12.—Visit of king and queen to Vienna has been indefinitely postponed.

WAS A TIE AT DALLAS.

The football game at Dallas yesterday afternoon between the A. and M. and 'Varsity teams was one of intense interest, and neither side scored. The information was received here last night in the form of a telegram from Mr. Beall Chatham, who with several others from Bryan, attended the game. The telegram states that 'Varsity was out classed all around, and the ball was near Austin's goal a number of times. A. and M. failed to score on account of errors and fumbles in critical moments.

The A. and M. boys have made a creditable showing for themselves and for the work of Coach Larsen. With corresponding improvement in the future the end of the season should find the red and white wreathed with championship laurels.

TEACHERS' CLANSMAN CONTEST.

The voting contest for the six reserved seats for the performance of "The Clansman," to be given to the lady school teacher receiving the largest number of votes, has opened in a most gratifying manner.

The scholars are already beginning to take a lively interest in the contest. Everybody, young or old, rich or poor, is entitled to one or one thousand votes, the only provision being that the voting shall be done on the voting coupons printed daily in this newspaper. There are several hundred school children and supporters of the public schools in this city, every one of whom should cast at least one vote for the teacher of their choice.

The plan of the contest is very simple. The Eagle will afford the opportunity to one teacher and her friends to witness that great play of the South, "The Clansman," at the opera house on Oct. 24. We have accordingly secured six reserved seats for this performance, and will present them with our compliments to the teacher receiving the largest number of votes.

The successful teacher will be the owner of the seats for the evening and may invite any of her friends whom she desires to share them with her.

Commenting on the work of the great German theorist, Bernard Zeihn, the correspondent says: "He has built a monument to his fame and reputation through his unequalled works on the art of music, and by the many talented pupils, acknowledged artists, who are pleased to call him master. Among these are Fannie Blomfield, Zeisler, Regina Watson, Frederick Lillebridge, Wilhelm Medelschulte, Otto Wolf and Glenn Dillard Gunn.

DORCHESTER SEES PIERCE

Latter Says He Will Visit Texas at the Proper Time.

Sherman, Tex., Oct. 12.—C. D. Dorchester, Federal receiver of the Waters-Pierce Oil company in Texas, who has been in St. Louis for several days, has returned home.

While there Mr. Dorchester met Henry Clay Pierce. He expressed to the receiver satisfaction at the progress of the business under court direction, and his belief that he will be dealt with justly thereby.

He did not refer to the oft repeated determination of Governor Campbell to have him back in Texas, but stated to Mr. Dorchester his intentions to, at the proper time, visit the state, and does not seem to find in the situation any cause for alarm for his personal or property interests.

TEMPTATION TOO GREAT.

Soldier Crosses the Rio Grande to Call on His Sweetheart.

San Antonio, Oct. 12.—Because he could not resist the temptation to cross the Rio Grande river to see his sweetheart, who was dangerously ill, James P. Rogers of Battery A, Third field artillery, was placed in the guard house and will stand trial on the charge of desertion from the army. Rogers, it is charged, deserted some time ago and took up his residence in C. P. Diaz. His sweetheart resided in Eagle Pass. When she became dangerously ill the officers suspected that Rogers would cross the river to see her and watched the house. He was captured.

BATES PASSES AWAY.

In Overland Stage Business Before Advent of Santa Fe.

San Angelo, Tex., Oct. 12.—Colonel Elisha Bates, who came to San Angelo in the 70s, died at the home of Judge Joseph Spence, with whom he had lived as a member of the family for many years. He was eighty-five years of age and was born in Woodbury, Tenn. He was in the overland stage business for a number of years prior to the advent of the Santa Fe.

San Antonio, Oct. 12.—The identity of the man found on the Mitchell road with his head battered in has been established. His name is Elmore Dickey. Jesse Smith has been arrested on a charge of assault to murder. Both men live near Mitchell Lake. Smith claims he was attacked, and only struck Dickey in self-defense. Dickey is in a serious condition.

CHICAGO AGAIN WINS.

For Third Successive Time Detroit Defeated.

Detroit, Oct. 12.—In the first game of the world's series on their own field the Detroit league team was defeated Friday by the Chicago Nationals 6 to 1. It was a well deserved victory for the Chicago team, as it played superior baseball throughout. There were several errors of commission by Detroit, besides two fielding errors. All of these figured in the running making. It was anything but baseball weather. The temperature ranged between 46 and 48 degrees, with a cold twenty-mile wind blowing from the north across the diamond. Several times there were showers, one while Chicago was batting in the fifth inning, being so heavy that it was necessary to stop for fifteen minutes. Again in the seventh inning there was a sharp shower, but it did not last long enough to interrupt the game. The attendance was a disappointment, reaching only 11,306. The raw, cold day probably had some effect on the crowd, together with dissatisfaction with the arrangements governing the sale of tickets.

Detroit bunched hits in but one inning, the fourth, when, with two out, Cobb's fine three-bagger was followed by two singles, O'Leary striking out with the bases full.

The Detroit team did not show at any time the snap and ginger which marked their work in their American league race.

Rossman continued his fine work at first base and drove in Detroit's only run with a single. Donovan gave but two men bases on balls, the same number which overall did, but both of the Detroit pitchers' passes developed into runs.

Captain Chance of the Chicago team was hit on the right hand by an in-shoot while at bat in the opening inning, and two fingers were badly crushed. The game was stopped while they were dressed, but Chance said that the injury might prevent his playing any more.

Just before the play was called at 2 o'clock, Manager Jennings was called to the plate, where Mayor Thompson presented to him a life size floral tiger and a gold watch.

In the first inning Slagle flied out and Scheckard followed with a single, only to be thrown out when he tried to steal second. Chance was hit by the ball and stole second, but Steinfield's fly ended the inning. Jones, the first man to bat for Detroit, was given a base on balls and Schaefer sacrificed him to second, but neither Crawford nor Cobb succeeded in getting the ball into safe territory.

In the fourth Detroit scored its only run. With two out, Cobb hit to the crowd in center field, getting three bases under the ground rule. Rossman followed with a single and scored him. Then Coughlin singled and Schmidt walked. The crowd was on the tip of expectancy, and shouting for O'Leary to clear the bases, but he struck out.

O'Leary handled Evers' grounder slowly in the fifth inning, and the latter reached first base. Schulte got a base on balls and Tinker advanced both men with a sacrifice. Overall's hit scored Evers and Slagle's fly to Jones brought in Schulte. Scheckard forced Overall.

Schulte opened the seventh with a hit. Tinker tried to sacrifice, bunting to Donovan. The pitcher threw high to second to catch Schulte, and both were safe. Overall sacrificed, and Slagle grounded to O'Leary, who threw to the plate to catch Schulte. The Chicago man, however, slid under the ball and scored. Scheckard scored Tinker with a safe bunt. Chance forced Scheckard at second and then started to steal. Schmidt threw to Schaeffer, and while the Detroit second baseman followed Chance down the base line Slagle scored. Chance was then put out. A base on balls to Tinker in the ninth materialized into a run by means of Overall's sacrifice and Slagle's fly back of short, which fell safe. Rossman and Coughlin raised the crowd's expectations by signalling in succession in the ninth, but the next two men were easy outs.

The receipts were $17,285.50.

BIGELOW WROTE.

Confesses to Mailing Threatening Letters.

Denver, Oct. 11.—Kemp V. Bigelow, the young clerk from Bryan, O., who mailed dynamite packages to Governor Buchtel and several other prominent citizens of Denver, has confessed that he was also the author of letters mailed on Aug. 29 last to the Burlington railroad and the Moffatt road, the Adams Express company, the Daniels & Fisher Stores company, the May Shop and Clothing company and to Postmaster Soures demanding amounts varying from $10,000 to $50,000, and aggregating $190,000.

Suspicion was attracted to Bigelow by the similarity between the handwriting in the threatening letters and the addresses on the infernal machines mailed this week to Governor Buchtel and others. At first Bigelow denied the accusation that he wrote the black mailing letters, but he finally broke down and confessed. He will be turned over to the Federal authorities and prosecuted on the charge of using the mails to defraud.

MANY THINGS PROMISED.

Projectors of New Atlantic City Beach Plan Numerous Improvements.

New York, Oct. 11.—The projectors of the new Atlantic City Beach have promised many things, such as a five-mile board walk, built upon concrete, but nothing they have promised equals to the casual visitor the sight of two elephants, just arrived from Bombay at work. With their heads against a timber, they push it into place. Harnessed to cars filled with dirt and cracked stone, they draw loads that could not be budged by several teams of horses. The work of the elephants is directed by a tiny Hindu.

Long Beach is a very busy place just now. The ruins of the old hotel are being cleared away. Bungalows are being torn down to make room for modern houses. The board walk is being constructed and arrangements are being made for the proper laying out of an ideal city by the sea. It was found that horses tire quickly while working in the heavy sand, so the idea of using elephants was tried and with success.

FOSTER'S WEATHER BULLETIN.

(Copyrighted by W. T. Foster.)

Washington, D. C., October 12. —Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent 15 to 19, warm wave 14 to 18, cool wave 17 to 21. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 19, cross west of Rockies country by close of 20, great central valleys 21 to 23, Eastern states 24. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies country about 19, great central valleys 21, Eastern states 23. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about 22, great central valleys 24, Eastern states 26.

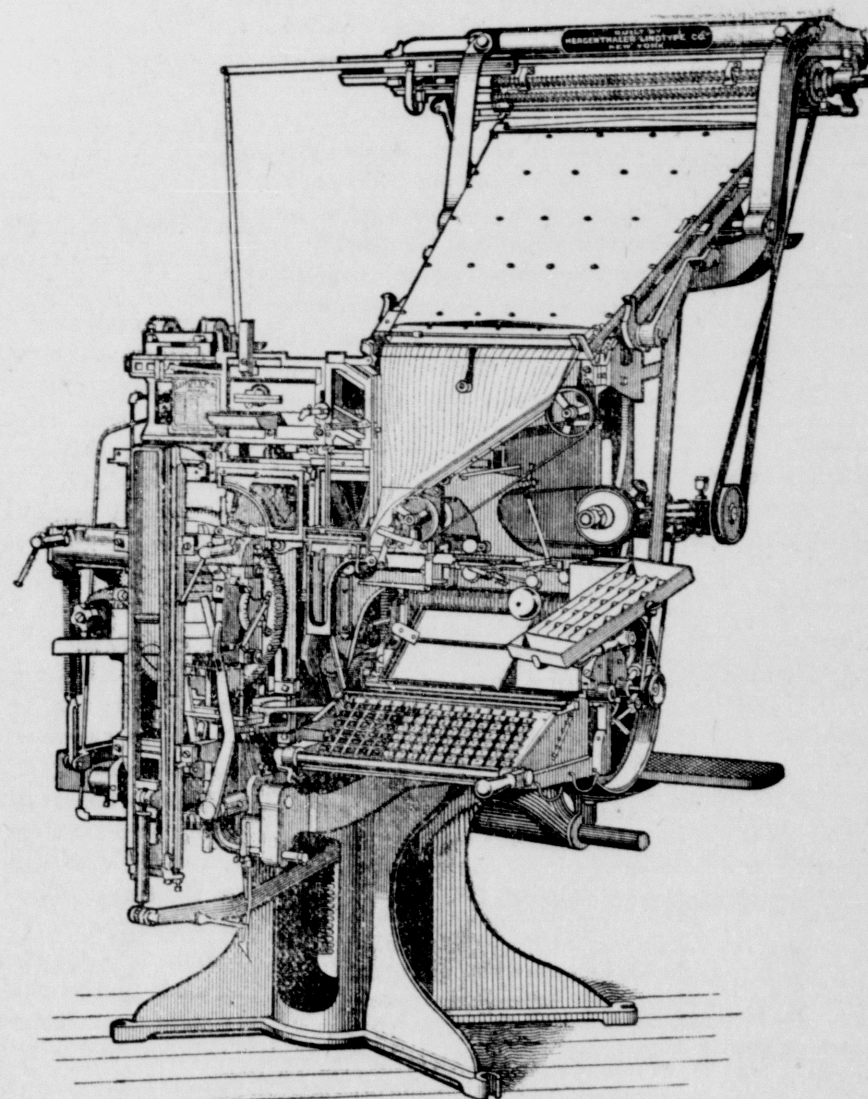

This will be one of the severe storm periods of the month. Tropical storms may be expected on our southern coasts not far from 24 and at the same time freezing temperatures in the middle northwest. Rainfall will increase and the cold wave will bring snows to northern sections.

Immediately following October 12 a cold wave with frosts will come into the Missouri and Mississippi valleys from the Canadian northwest. These frosts will probably touch northern sections of the cotton belt. Following that cold wave a great high temperature wave is expected to cross the continent reaching meridian 90 about October 16.

While I am expecting much good weather for corn gathering and cotton picking in November, very severe storms are also expected. A part of these storms will occur on the continent and, of course, while they are passing, bad weather is to be expected. But while the Caribbean and gulf tropical storms or hurricanes are in operation the continent usually has cool, clear weather. November will bring a full supply of these hurricanes.

The Lyon of the Republican party in Texas, whose lair is at Damsite, is in no danger from the president's dogs or gun; he is a pet.

The railroads have not yet announced excursion rates to that cotton picking contest between our august president and a Louisiana negro.

Statistics show that in Washington, D. C., the death rate of negroes is nearly double that of whites. The law of natural selection and the survival of the fittest.

The next legislature ought to do something to regulate the manufacture of adjectives. At the rate the Houston Post paragrapher is turning them out an adjective will soon be worth about as much as a Confederate shinplaster was in 1865.

The greatest religious work that is now being done among the negroes of the United States is that of the Catholics. About one-tenth of all the members of that race, or a total of one million, are communicants of the Catholic church, according to census statistics.

In spite of the old Roman proverb, "say nothing but good of the dead," modern iconoclasts are shattering the ideal George Washington held up as a model for American boys; it has been proven that the real George W. could cuss a blue streak; that he was a tax dodger, and that he owned a distillery.

There is a sensation in Tyler caused by the following paragraph in the report of the grand jury.

"The fact comes to your grand jury when it was too late to make thorough investigation, that some of the meat market men were slaughtering animals and offering for sale to consumers meat that was totally unfit for human beings to eat. In view of the fact that the present grand jury could not properly investigate these charges we respectfully suggest to your honor that you especially charge the next grand jury on this subject. It is a matter so vital to us all that we feel it should be pursued until finally corrected."

We are familiar with physical energy in its protean forms, such as light, heat and electricity; we see wonderful results accomplished by what we call electric power, water power, steam power and muscular power; but when we study closely the natural history of these forces we find that they are all one and the same; and when we trace this mighty energy to its beginning we find that source in the sun. Do we wonder then that in all forms of nature worship the sun is always regarded as the supreme deity? No intelligent person can deny that there are other forces, not physical, operating within and about us, which though spiritually discerned, are so much more powerful than the forces inherent in material things that the latter are the willing and obedient servants of the former. We call these forces by such names of intelligence, imagination, reason, conscience, faith, hope and love. When we study the nature and genesis of these psychic forces the facts disclosed all lead to the conclusion that all are but the ministers of one omnipresent, omniscient and omnipotent energy whose name is God.

AT A. & M. COLLEGE.

The industrial awakening of Texas is in no way more strongly evidenced than in the congestion reported at the State Agricultural and Mechanical College, which will force that institution to withhold its privileges from dozens of ambitious young men through lack of dormitory accommodations.

The attendance of this institution has been increasing with the years and this year outnumbers that of any previous period. Coming from all sections of the state, this attendance evidences a desire for a technical education which shall fit the young man of the rising generation to cope with the agricultural and mechanical problems which are bound to be so closely interwoven with the state's steady advance.

All this means that the state's young men are alive to the situation which confronts the state and see the future which lies ahead in its agricultural and mechanical development, which should and can be made by the state itself, if proper steps are taken to equip and outfit these native Texan boys to properly till the land, open the mines and factories and build the railroads and bridges which shall eventually bring the state to its own as the center of manufacturing and commercial supremacy in this country. The mark is not too high. It can be done and the one principal thing that is needed is these educational developments.

It is hoped that arrangements can be made for the accommodation of all comers to the school, and the state owes it to itself to see to it that there is never again a shortage in its educational accommodations.—Beaumont Enterprise.

DECISION RESERVED.

Test of the Baskin-McGregor Law Submitted at Tyler.

Tyler, Tex., Oct. 10.—The ex-parte Steve Vaccarezza case, a feature test of the Baskin-McGregor law, was submitted to the court of criminal appeals here Wednesday. The case was argued by Attorneys Ward and Aubrey for the defense and Special Counsel F. J. McCord for the state. The court failed to render a decision, and will not now do so before Wednesday of next week, if then.

Two miles north of Whitt, Parker county, Texas, Paschall Jonson, a young farmer, was killed by lightning. Trinity and Brazos Valley railway will not inaugurate double daily train service from Fort Worth until Nov. 1. One hundred screw worms were extracted from an ear of the little son of a Mr. Stephens of Lamar county, Texas. National Wholesale Druggists' association, in session at Denver, declared cocaine to be the most pernicious of drugs.

A FINE SHOW.

Lew Virden's merry musical comedy, The Wizard of Wall Street, came back for a return date last night and the verdict was that it was better than when it was here a month ago. The house was packed, which speaks well for Mr. Virden's production. Miss Dunlap was even more popular this time than before; her clever work in her part, her smile that won't come off, her pleasing personality, all go to make up what she has been called, the Fay Templeton of the West. Her songs are about the best ever heard in Dallas, and her work in the Wizard Trio is artistic. Mr. Berger as The Wizard can't be beat. As an actor he is great, and his comedy fiddle specialty called for five encores. Mr. Lew Virden is there all the time. Messrs. Frank and Harry Roberts play their parts with the proper amount of ginger to make a hit anywhere. Miss Clover and Miss Berger were just simply irresistible. They are fine. A real good show.—Dallas News.

NATIONALS WIN SECOND.

Chicago Defeats Detroit Wednesday Three to One.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The Chicago National league team defeated Detroit in the second game of the series for the world's championship Wednesday afternoon. The score was 3 to 1. Slow pitching and several slight accidents caused the contest to drag out over two hours, the delays trying the patience of the big crowd, which again filled almost every inch of the seating room.

Mullin and Pfeister were the pitchers, and Payne went behind the bat in place of Schmidt. Otherwise the teams lined up as on the preceding day. Schmidt's retirement was due primarily to his inaccurate throwing, but in this respect the change brought small improvement, as the five stolen bases credited to the local team testify. Playing conditions were improved for the second game, the crowd numbering 21,901, as against 24,000 Tuesday, while some sunshine and the absence of the chill breeze of the first day kept spectators and players in more comfort. What wind there was blew across the diamond and aided the play more than it hindered it.

Rossman, whose hitting was the real feature of the contest, scored the first run of the game in the second inning. He hit a grounder toward the center, which bounded away from the shortstop and rolled far out to left field, the batsman making three bases on the hit. Coughlin struck out, but Payne lifted a short fly to left field which Tinker might have caught, but left to Scheckard. The ball fell safe, and Rossman scored. Payne stole second, but O'Leary and Mullin could not bring him home.

Chicago tied the score in its half of the second inning, Mullin giving a queer exhibition of poor and good pitching. Kling, Evers and Schulte singled in succession, filling the bases with none out. Then Tinker drew a base on balls, forcing Kling home. Right there Mullin suddenly regained control of his curves, striking out Pfeister and Slagle, while the best Scheckard could do was a puny grounder to Schaefer.

In each of the next three innings Detroit's batsmen reached first base, with none out, but poor base running and the inability of the following batsmen to find openings in the Chicago defense stopped the embryonic talents. Chicago missed a similar chance in the third, when a double play and a strikeout left runners on first and third.

The winning runs came in the fourth. Tinker's hit rounded off Mullin's glove. He went to second on a sacrifice and stole third. O'Leary fumbled Slagle's grounder, Tinker scoring. Slagle stole second and came the rest of the way on Scheckard's two-base hit past first base. After Chance had popped out Scheckard was caught trying to steal third.

After that fast fielding prevented further scoring. O'Leary cut off two hits by marvelous stops and throws in the fifth and repeated the feat in the sixth. Scheckard caught a low fly off his shoe tops in the seventh, and the Detroit runners who reached first base were cut down by Kling's fine throwing.

As in Tuesday's game, a fast double play stopped an incipient rally in the last inning. This time, however, the visitors were the victims. Tinker stabbed and held Coughlin's hot liner and threw to Chance in time to double up Rossman, who had reached first on his fourth successive hit. Payne ended the game with a little hit in front of the plate, which Kling threw to first.

The receipts for Wednesday's game, as announced by Secretary Bruce of the national commission, were $26,430. The players will receive $14,272.20, and each club is entitled to the extent of $4,570.40. The national commission receives the balance, $2,643.

REMARKABLE OPERATION.

Six Organs of an Afflicted Lady Removed Successfully.

New York, Oct. 10.—What is described by physicians as a remarkable surgical operation was performed at the Hanaman hospital with apparent success. The patient was Mrs. George Blydenburg, wife of a wealthy contractor.

Mrs. Blydenburg was suffering from a cancerous growth of the abdominal regions. After an X-ray examination it was found that her death was a matter of a few days unless something was done, and it was decided to perform an operation at once. The operation was witnessed by ten physicians, and lasted nearly three hours. In that time six organs were removed, including the upper part of the bladder, the vermiform appendix, the illum and the ascending colon.

According to the physicians' operations on these individual organs have been performed, but never in a combination of six. The third day after the operation Mrs. Blydenburg showed great improvement. An X-ray machine will be used to kill any fragments of growth in the tissues. The case will be placed before the academy of pathological science and other medical societies in this country.

In commenting on the operation Dr. Crump said it appeared now that the time was not far distant when almost any of the vital organs may be removed without any danger of death.

Crew Had Hard Time.

Kingston, Jamaica, Oct. 10.—Captain and crew of the barkentine Ada Morrell arrived here on board the steamer Admiral Dewey. They were taken from the barkentine last Thursday. The Ada Morrell was wrecked and waterlogged while going from Salem to Philadelphia. The wreck was set on fire by the crew of the Dewey.

Some Sold For a Song.

New York, Oct. 11.—The first day's auction sale of Miss Lillian Russell's household goods at the Fifth Avenue Art Galleries realized $6,813. The drawing room suite, which is described in the catalogue as a copy of an old set in Musee Cluny, Paris, brought $1,175, the highest price of the day. It was mainly a crowd of bargain seekers, souvenir hunters and second hand dealers that attended the sale and things offered generally went for a song.

CANNON A KICKER.

Starts Game by Booting Pigskin Twenty-Five Yards.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—"Uncle" Joe Cannon, speaker of the national house of representatives, Friday began his football career, says a dispatch from Galesburg, Ill., to the Tribune, and the vigorous boost he gave the pigskin showed he was not decrepit despite his seventy-two years. His kick of twenty-five yards opened the annual game of the Lomard and Chicago colleges.

Speaker Cannon was escorted to the field and introduced the players and informed that his duty was to kick the ball as near the goal as possible.

"That's easy," was the response. "Let me have one trial first." Uncle Joe took a hitch in his trousers and hunted the ball. He tried again and began better and the game began, Lomard winning by a score of 30 to 1.

CAMP CHANGED.

This Is Done In Expectation of Bagging a Bear.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 12.—Roosevelt camp, at Monticello crossing of Bayou Tensas, has passed into history. The president has a new camp near Newellton, in Tensas parish, on a branch of the Iron Mountain railway.

The change of location was decided on not only because no bear had been killed, but because the president's friends became convinced that there were none, or practically none, on the upper Tensas. They had thrashed the woods covering the entire country around the Monticello crossing, and it is still a matter of doubt whether any fresh signs of the presence of the bruin family have been discovered. Some old tracks have been found, and Ben Lilley has discerned what he believes to be few traces of more recent appearance, but these are so rare and far apart that they did not justify remaining in that vicinity. No member of the party has secured the remotest glimpse of a bear, nor have any of the forty dogs, with which they are supplied, struck at any time a well defined bear trail. So uncertain, indeed, are the reports that Mr. Parker emphatically expresses the opinion that there are no bear where the hunt has heretofore been conducted.

The president accepts the situation philosophically. He pointed out that if other game than bear had been desired it could easily have been secured, and in confirmation of this suggestion that if deer were wanted a score might have as easily been killed as one. Many bob cats have also been sighted, but as long as there was any chance of getting bear the disposition was not to shoot smaller animals because of the fear that the noise would drive away the big game.

The reports from Newellton are encouraging. Ever since the president arrived in this section he has been receiving letters telling him that there were plenty of bear within a few miles of that town, and when Mr. Parker came into the railroad station he secured confirmation of these statements over the long distance telephone. The failure of the present hunt causes him to regard these promises with some degree of allowance, but he, and the president, as well, decided that the only way to settle the matter definitely was to make personal investigation.

The new camp is on Bayou Tensas, as was the old, but forty miles south of the present site, and it is twelve inland from the railroad. The people in that section claim that the bear have been run out of the upper country and have taken refuge in the region in which there has been less disturbance. Only Ben Lilley, Holt Collier and the Metcalf brothers of the professional hunters were taken south. Jack Powell, the negro cook, is also attached to the new camp. Most of the horses and dogs and some tents were likewise removed.

Friday was devoted to searching the woods between the railroad and Bayou Tensas for wild cats.

BIBLE READING OPPOSED.

President of Chicago Board of Education So Tells Ladies.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The problem of religious instruction in the public schools was put to President Otto C. Schneider of the Chicago board of education. President Schneider met the issue squarely—indeed, so much so as to bring a gasp of astonishment from the two club women who had broached the subject.

"I believe with Jean Jacques Rousseau," said Mr. Schneider, "that religion should not be taught to any one in any form until his or her mind is matured. As for the Bible in the public schools I am opposed to it. It is not fit for children."

President Schneider's visitors were Mrs. Elizabeth Cook, president of the Woman's Educational union, and Mrs. Clarence A. Starr, a prominent club woman and educational worker. The two wanted to ask the president's aid in securing the introduction of a book of Bible readings in the curriculum of the schools.

"I would not object to a history of the Bible in the schools as a master piece of literature," President Schneider told the women. "It should be there the same as Byron's poems or any other of the great master pieces. And for the same reason I should be glad to have on the reading list the history of the Koran or the reading of Confucius or Buddha. As for teaching religion in the public schools of Chicago, it would be against the constitution."

Religious instruction never has been introduced into the schools, the school authorities feeling that no system of religious training could be adopted to the remunerable sects and religions presented in the cities population. In addition, as suggested by President Schneider, a legal question is involved.

Hot Springs Desires That City In Projected League.

Memphis, Oct. 12.—If Shreveport withdraws from the Southern Baseball league, says a special from Hot Springs, that city will have an interesting proposition submitted from this point before entrance to the Texas league is made. Hot Springs, Pine Bluff, Texarkana, Bateson and Monroe are in communication to establish a tri-state league for next year. Two more cities are wanted and Shreveport would give an impetus to the move. Several smaller cities are anxious to identify themselves with the proposed league, but railroad facilities are against them. Letters have been mailed to Shreveport magnates pleading that no move be made toward the Texas league until a meeting can be called and the tri-state league project be given due consideration.
